STAGE TOUR

Tour description

Stage 2 of this varied two-day tour in the Lechquellengebirge, featuring stunning views and a visit to one of Austria's most beautiful spots—Lake Formarin.

From the Freiburger Hütte, follow the Stebok-Wäg themed trail downhill toward the Klostertal. The trail takes you past nine stations showcasing the flora, fauna, and geological features of the Klostertal—and with a little luck, you might spot the ibex that gives the trail its name! The trail leads along wide alpine paths and, in sections, forest trails through the Schmiedetobel, past the Musterinalpe, and down to Bargand. From there, it winds its way across the Sandtobel, through the Sponasa grounds to Obermason, and finally to the Kristbergsaal in Dalaas.

As an alternative to walking back, you can take a hiking bus from Alpe Formarin to Lech and then continue on the local bus to Dalaas (pay for your ticket in cash on the bus).

Walking time: approx. 2 hours

Difficulty: moderate – varied scenery

Note: The times listed are approximate. Depending on the weather or other factors, the walking time may be shorter or longer.
